

Seek land taking to stop housing

Opponents to proposed public housing in Wilmington have announced their intention to have the town take the land on which the Wilmington Housing Authority seeks to build two projects. The Concerned Citizens of Wilmington are seeking to call a special town meeting on Nov. 24 at which they will ask that the town take the land by eminent domain, as conservation land.

Paul Theodos, a director of the group, said that if the housing authority agrees to drop its plans to proceed under Chapter 774, the citizens group will drop the eminent domain proposal.

He said that the land involved in the proposal would be the back land on which the housing authority and Berkshire Builders planned to build. It would not include the barber shop on Main Street, which the housing authority plans to use as access to the site.

Last week the Wilmington Housing Authority agreed to reconsider its decision to use Chapter 774, the "anti-snob zoning law." Under that law, a developer can bypass local control in building a housing project. The housing authority had voted the use of 774 after the selectmen cancelled a special town meeting that had been scheduled for August 25.

DeLuca speaks out

The former accountant for the Wilmington Housing Authority Tuesday night advocated a recall procedure for the town government.

Anthony DeLuca, who served as accountant for the housing authority for about 20 years, spoke with the board of selectmen on his concerns regarding the proposed housing projects in Wilmington for elderly persons, and for low and moderate income persons.

DeLuca, who also recently retired as business manager of the Wilmington Public Schools, said that he didn't have anybody in particular in mind in regard to a recall, but his discussion made it clear that he was unhappy with the present housing authority.

"When you get a political subdivision that will not allow the public to speak at its meetings, that concerns me," DeLuca said.

DeLuca addressed himself to various aspects of public housing that he thought the selectmen might not be aware of. Citing a recent Boston Globe article on the plight of children in a one-parent family, he pointed to the cost of the Chapter 766 (special education) program in the school system. He pegged the current cost at $1 million in an $8 million budget, saying that the million dollar figure would be peanuts if the town had public housing. Low income housing, he said, was a sleeping giant.

He also pointed to what he said were misinterpretations in relation to other points on public housing. He said that the state would exercise control over selection of tenants. He also said that no law would hold a contractor to buying 15 percent of his supplies locally.

Speeders make Hopkins Street hazardous

Since Hopkins Street was widened about 10 years ago, it has become a favorite shortcut. It serves as a prime access route to Shawshen Tech for residents of both Wilmington and Tewksbury.

Residents of Hopkins Street visited the Wilmington selectmen Tuesday night, seeking to reduce the speed of traffic on the street, which has a high accident rate. They presented the selectmen with a petition and a list of recent accidents.

They said that even the sidewalks are not safe. "It's not a matter of keeping them off the sidewalks," one woman said. "They're in the yards."

"Where he stands his little bicycle is where one of the cars landed," said Barry Cahill, gesturing to his three-year-old son Patrick, asleep in Mrs. Cahill's lap.

The residents acknowledged the cooperation of the Wilmington Police Department on the problem, but said that even with increased police presence, the problem persists.

The engineering of the road became a question after it was pointed out that most of accidents occur in the area between houses numbered 38 and 52.

"There's something wrong," said Gary Corning. "They do 360's right in front of my house."

Adding to the problem is a sidewalk that stops at the Billerica town line. Children from Dorchester Street must walk on Hopkins Street for about 50 feet along a section where the road has not been widened. Also, there is a telephone pole that juts into the street.

Selectman Daniel Ballou, Jr. suggested the installation of speed bumps. Rocco DePasquale opposed the idea, stating that the town would be creating a hazard. Should one of the bumps contribute to an accident, the town would be responsible.

"Who's going to be responsible without the bumps?" asked a woman. It was pointed out that Tewksbury has installed speed bumps on Livingston Street.

Ballou also suggested closing off the street except to residents, or making it a one-way street. Chairman Bob Cain said that this would not be possible, because the road connects two towns.

Another remedy mentioned was a guard rail along the sidewalk.

Town Manager Sterling Morris said that he had contacted the state to have a speed limit set on the street. Selectman John Imbimbo explained how the state goes about setting a speed limit, and ventured that the limit would not be lower than the 30 m.p.h. limit presently allowed under a general speed law.

Mrs. Cahill said that he had been told that blinking speed limit signs for a school zone could be installed, taken from a school that is now closed. The Shawshen Elementary School is at the corner of Hopkins Street and Shawshen Avenue.

The selectmen instructed the town manager to have the town engineer investigate the street. They also directed the residents to the Shawshen Tech School Committee in regard to youths from the school speeding on the street.

Corning also complained that regular dumping was taking place at the old airport on Hopkins Street. He said that trucks were entering the airport through Billerica, but that the dumping was taking place in Wilmington.

Auditors find errors in housing authority books

A state audit of the Wilmington Housing Authority has revealed numerous errors in the maintenance of its checking accounts.

The report, covering the period from October 1, 1978 to March 31, 1980, said that the checking account for one of the authority's projects, 667-1, did not disclose a bookkeeping error of $1,000, nor did it indicate five deposits totaling $2,632. There was also a discrepancy of almost $300 between the adjusted audit balance and the balance computed by the fee accountant for project 705-1.

State Auditor Thaddeus Buczko also reported that the authority has no contract with its fee accountant.

"The Authority," the auditor advised, "should formalize a contract, stating services to be performed and fees to be paid, with their accountant."

"It's something that can be adjusted and taken care of rather quickly," said Steve O'Leary of the auditor's office. "But you can't overlook the fact that there were errors."

Another detour

Wilmington will have one more detour next week when the Burlington Avenue bridge in the center is closed for repairs. The bridge will be closed for four to six weeks, starting on Monday, Oct. 20.

Work on the sewer line along Main Street near Silver Lake is resulting in both delays and detours for Route 38 motorists. The work is taking place at several points between Rocco's Restaurant and the Tewksbury line. Crews are attempting to complete the work on Main Street before winter.

Work at Jenks Bridge in East Wilmington is progressing well, and Woburn Street might be open by the end of the week.

Forum on Prop. 2½

The League of Women Voters of Wilmington will sponsor a forum on Ballot Question 2, also known as Proposition 2½ at the Wilmington High School Barrows Auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 16.

The League has invited speakers from the Citizens for Limited Taxation, the state league, the town and Rep. James Miceli to participate.

While the league has taken a stand against Proposition 2½, it feels that it can best serve the voters' needs by having both sides of the question explored.

All voters are urged to attend the Thursday evening forum.

Flu clinic

The Board of Health will hold a Flu Clinic at the Town Hall Annex, 342 Middlesex Avenue, on Sunday, October 26 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at no charge to the public.

The Public Health Service recommends annual immunization against influenza for the following groups of people:

Persons in the older age group particularly over 65 years of age.

Persons in nursing or convalescent homes.

Persons of any age who have a chronic disease.

Persons who provide essential community services or who may be at increased risk to exposure.

The flu vaccine should not be taken by persons who are allergic to eggs or egg products.

The Board of Health is grateful to the Women's Club who will assist in this program.

Pneumonia vaccine will be offered at the same time. There will be a charge of $4.00 for this vaccine, which offers protection for three years.

The State Health Department advises that both vaccines can be administered at the same time, with no ill effects.

Gentleman Jim

Gladys and Jim Banda were all smiles as they listened to Sterling Morris tell of the days of World War II. Also at the table were Fr. Francis Mackin, Fr. Paul Sweeney, and Debbie Banda.

The Big Surprise

I sincerely want to thank each and everyone for making Friday, October 10th, a beautiful evening . . . one that will be a lasting memory. Thank you all, Jim Banda

Jimmy Banda's surprise party last Friday evening was more than just a surprise to him. A number of Wilmington residents have since told the Town Crier "I wish I knew of it - I would have gone."

The number who attended - 240 to 250, could easily have been doubled, if the word had been spread more widely. But, then maybe Jimmy would have heard of it, and it would not have been a surprise.

The party was in the Hillview Country Club in North Reading. It was the inspiration of Madelyn McKie, Joan Bachman and Barbara Cogan. It was the delight of all who attended.

The two best speakers were Sterling Morris, town manager, and Fr. Francis Mackin, former curate of St. Thomas Church, now pastor of St. Beverly church.

Morris is an able municipal technician, but no one has ever claimed to his speaking abilities. Last Friday night was a different story. One of the things he did, early in the speaking session, was to forbid Father Mackin and the publisher of the Town Crier from taking part. He wanted the speeches short, he said.

The Town Crier publisher did not have an opportunity, Father Mackin, with typical Irish wit, made one for himself. It consisted of a very short speech, delivered at the end of the Invocation.

"It's nice to be home" were the five words of Father Mackin. It was a heartfelt speech, and one that was gladly accepted by all.

Sterling Morris told the life story of Jim Banda. Banda was born in Cambridge, and grew up in Somerville. He graduated from high school just in time for World War II, and on November 22, 1943, he and the U.S. Army joined hands, Morris said.

Banda served in the Second Armored Division, First U.S. Army. It was the first ashore in Normandy, with Jim being in the second wave.

It was the first to break out of the beachhead. It was the first US unit to get to Paris. It was the first to cross the German frontier. It was the first to cross the River Rhine.

The Division was known as "Hell on Wheels."

Jim's part of the story ended on October 9, 1944. A German 88 (artillery) shell exploded near him, and nearly took off both legs. This happened in a place called Warwich, in Germany.

Jim, severely wounded, ended up in the US Army Hospital in Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. The nurse who attended him was Gladys Conrad.

He was released from the hospital in February 1948. Two months later, on April 24, 1948, James Banda and Gladys Conrad were united in marriage.

Jim graduated from Suffolk University in 1955, with a Bachelor of Laws degree. He and Gladys moved to Wilmington, 10 Marie Drive, a few years later. He was appointed to the Wilmington Planning Board in 1960, and there served eight years. He also served two years as Veterans Agent.

He was elected a selectman in 1968 and served three terms, a total of 12 years. He was chairman in 1970 and again in 1973 and 1974.

Jim Banda, said Morris, has been an usher at St. Thomas Church for 20 years, a member of the Wilmington Minutemen, a member of the Friends of the Harnden Tavern, and a member of the Wilmington Hospital Committee.

"He is one of our outstanding citizens - very mild, compassionate and likeable. I have never fought with him, and I don't know anyone who has."

There were 15 speeches, after Morris. All of them were brief. Robert Cain, chairman of the board of selectmen proclaimed October 10, 1980 as James F. Banda Day.

James Banda Jr., read two telegrams from Mike and Diane Banda in San Francisco, where Mike is studying for a doctorate. The second was from a former Wilmington girl, Midge Wescott, who had been represented by Jim, after an airplane accident 15 years ago. Midge is now a missionary in South Africa, and it was from there that the telegram came.

State Senator Robert Buell presented a citation. Barbara Cogan presented best wishes from Senator Paul Tsongas. Atty. John Callan had citations from Governor King, the Mass. House of Representatives and Rep. James Miceli.

Adele Passmore represented the Friends of the Harnden Tavern; Rudy Carrasco represented the Wilmington Veterans' organizations. Joan Bachman had a presentation from Atty. Tim Kane. Danny Gillis made a presentation from the Mass. Federation of Planning Boards.

Roger Beaupre represented the Regional Health Center. Dr. John Marshall represented the Wilmington Family Counseling Service. Warren Sheerin represented the Wilmington company of Minutemen, and Sterling Morris made a presentation from the Mass. Selectmen's Association.

Madelyn McKie made the final presentation, to be followed by a brief talk by Jim, in acknowledgement of the surprise party tendered him.

Cynthia Bayerl 'Young Dietician of the Year'

Cynthia Taft Bayerl, R.D. of 30 Nassau Ave., Wilmington, has been chosen as Recognized Young Dietitian of the Year by her peers in the Mass. Dietetic Association. Bayerl was honored September 17 at the annual meeting of the Mass. Dietetic Association at the Sheraton Tara.

The Recognized Young Dietitian of the Year Award was established by the American Dietetic Association in 1975 to honor outstanding dietitians. Massachusetts recognizes three based on the following criteria. The dietitians must be 30 years of age or younger, be members of the American Dietetic Association, be registered dietitians, be active in the state or district dietetic associations, and demonstrate leadership in the field of dietetics.

Bayerl is the Pediatric Nutrition Specialist in the Cystic Fibrosis Program at Children's Hospital. She also serves in a volunteer capacity as nutrition advisor for the Ad Hoc Committee of Services for the Handicapped Child, Div. of Family Medicine of the Mass. Dept. of Public Health. Bayerl has been hired as a part-time nutritionist at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington after volunteering over 100 hours of nutritional counseling.

Bayerl is very active in the American Dietetic Association. She is chairperson of the Dietitians in Pediatric Practice for the Mass. Dietetic Association, and National chairperson of Cystic Fibrosis Special Interest Group of the American Dietetic Association. Bayerl has been one of five Recognized Young Dietitians asked to present a paper at the American Dietetic Association Annual Meeting in October in Atlanta due to her extensive work in helping families get monetary support for special diets their children must follow.

Bayerl has been very involved as a patient's rights advocate for families of children with special dietary needs. She has been able to get a number of nutrition products paid for by the Services for Handicapped Children. She presented documentation of nutritional support need to the Dept. of Public Health, along with cost analysis of Cystic Fibrosis diets, and, as a result, nutrition is now considered a part of the total care.

If you need help in this area, contact her at the Regional Health Center in Wilmington.

Children's puppet matinee

The Friends of Tewksbury Hospital, Inc. will sponsor a children's matinee performance by Suzanne Pemsler and the Hullabaloo Puppet Divas on Saturday, October 25, at 1 p.m. in the Tewksbury Memorial auditorium.

Suzanne Pemsler, acclaimed soprano, has been delighting audiences of all ages with her unusual performances, blending art song, folk song and opera with a wide variety of people-sized puppets as her partners.

Each of the 20 elegant, large and brilliantly-colored puppets has been created by the singer to bring a specific song or aria visually alive. While singing, she animates her life-sized puppets through a wide range of movements, bringing to life their own individual personalities.

Tickets, at $2, are available at the door and from members of the matinee committee: Mary Manseau, Gerry Rubico, Sandi Polimenio, Karen DiCalgero, Roberta Glebus, Barbara Mackey, Dot Aldrich and Mary Jane Marcucci.

If enough support is shown, the Friends hopes to bring other children's matinees to Tewksbury.

BILL SAWYER

on the Problems of the Elderly

Bill Sawyer's mother at 89 works every day and lives in her own home — not everyone is that fortunate — but more should be.

Bill Sawyer knows that inflation is the biggest enemy for the elderly. It is tragic when elderly people, who have worked all their lives, can barely manage a pound of hamburger -- or to heat their homes --because of inflation.

Health Care - Home Care - Nutrition

Bill Sawyer says, "These federal programs should be more flexible so that our elders can remain at home if they so desire."

Housing

"We must reverse the trend toward segregating our senior citizens. They must have flexible housing in small units instead of large segregating housing projects -- and effective assistance so that they can maintain and heat homes they've lived in all their lives."

Income

"Limits on what our senior citizens can earn and remain eligible for Social Security should be abolished. Flexible job patterns should be fostered so the elderly can work part time if they wish to."

All of these ideas are geared to one purpose: Making our elderly an integral part of our society. We need their ideas, experience, wisdom and participation -- Bill Sawyer says.

More tests ordered for North Woburn wastes

An intense hydrological study of the area of the chemical dump in North Woburn is being conducted. To date there have been 129 tests, with others remaining to be done under the most sophisticated methods available, according to information presented at a meeting last week of the Citizens' Advisory Committee (CAC).

The CAC meeting was held at the Thompson Library in North Woburn on Wednesday evening. The committee is made up of representatives of the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the U.S.

Army Corps of Engineers, the Mass. Dept. of Environmental Quality Engineering (DEQE), the Mystic River Watershed Association (MRWA) and community representatives from Winchester, Woburn, Reading and Wilmington.

Selectman Robert Cain of Wilmington is the chairman.

Speaking at the meeting were Richard Chaplin of the DEQE, Rick Leighton of the EPA and Dr. Herbert Meyer of the MRWA.

More research is necessary, Chaplin said. The present tests are to be the basis of future studies.

He said that some research had been made along the railroad bed, up into Wilmington, and as far as the Eames Street bridge. Some organic compounds have been found. In other places there were none.

He had also found a deposit of lead. Presumably it was found in North Woburn. Whether it was large or small was not stated.

Chairman Cain told the committee that a letter has been sent to the state, reporting that neither William D'Annolfo nor his representative had attended a meeting since July 23. Cain said he believed D'Annolfo was not complying with a court order, with a September 26 deadline.

D'Annolfo is the owner of the large industrial park in which, two years ago, large deposits of hides and animal matter were found, and since then deposits of arsenic and chromium.

Last week the Reading Chronicle reported that D'Annolfo had not yet paid fines levied on him in May by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. He had been enjoined from further drainage work on the site because it was deemed dangerous to the Mystic River watershed.

Legion of Merit awards for Knights

Five men from Wilmington and one from Tewksbury were among the 100 Fourth Degree Assembly members of the Knights of Columbus in Massachusetts to receive Legion of Merit awards at a special anniversary celebration at the Suffolk Downs clubhouse on Sept. 20.

Wilmington Knights honored were Robert Bratty of 319 Shawheen Ave., William Colburn of 506 Shawheen Ave., John McInnis of 4 Maple St., Richard Stosez of 4 Hanson Rd., and Wilfred Deveau of 38 Oakdale Rd.

The Tewksbury representative was Joseph Quinn of 5 Lloyd Rd.

Legion of Merit awards are given to Sir Knights who have contributed to any church, community endeavor, charity, patriotic activity, or any other act of assistance to a worthy cause deemed beneficial to humanity.

The recipients were selected by members of their respective Fourth Degree Assemblies, which represent the patriotic section of the Knights of Columbus.

Presenting the Legion of Merit certificates and badges to the recipients were His Eminence, Umberto Cardinal Medeiros, Catholic Archbishop of Boston, Arena, and Master James A. Healy of Province District One.

The award presentations and Grand Ball were held to commemorate both the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Fourth Degree, and the 70th anniversary of the establishment of the Fourth Degree in Massachusetts.

The dual event was co-chaired by Former District Deputy Anthony DiChiara of Medford and a large committee of Past Faithful Navigators.

Preliminary tests not definitive

Release prepared by the Citizens Advisory Committee

The MEPA Citizen's Advisory Committee was advised Wednesday night that test results of the preliminary surface, ground and well water samples taken in and around the Woburn hazardous waste site are still waiting further "crossmatching" prior to public release.

Richard Chaplin of the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Quality Engineering told the committee that the ground and surface water samples tested were "screening tools." He stressed that the results of these preliminary tests are not definitive and not sufficient to draw any conclusions concerning the chemicals buried on site and any possible relationship to the serious health problems which exist in Woburn. "There is an incredible amount of work remaining to be done and these preliminary screenings must not be considered definitive," Chaplin said.

Samples from Woburn's current drinking water wells were subject to sophisticated analysis for 129 priority pollutants. Chaplin expressed his opinion that as a result of the tests he would feel confident drinking Woburn's water. "The tests we have given Woburn's wells are the most extensive given to any water supply in Massachusetts and probably in the whole New England region. Bottled water is not subject to such intensive scrutiny," Chaplin said.

Woburn's wells G and H which were shut down in the spring of 1979, still contain trichlorethylene and remain closed.

Last week the MEPA-CAC sent a letter to Secretary of Environmental Affairs John Bewick and Attorney General Frank Bellotti expressing their concern that developer William D'Annolfo is not in compliance with the state and federal consent decrees mandate that the arsenic pit be temporarily covered by September 26. Recent news articles have attributed the "noncompliance" to the developer's lack of funds. Attorneys for the various parties to the consent decrees are mulling over what legal actions can be taken within the boundaries of the consent decrees.

The committee expressed its belief to Secretary Bewick and Attorney General Bellotti that the developer may also be in noncompliance with Secretary Bewick's mandate to the developer regarding the formulation of an Environmental Impact Statement as required by the Massachusetts Environmental Protection Act (MEPA). The MEPA consists of 12 members appointed by Secretary Bewick to advise him of the potential environmental impacts accrued when developer D'Annolfo completes his industrial park and concurrently addresses the hazardous

letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

The article covering Monday night's housing authority meeting was very disappointing. I felt it was biased against the selectmen and the townspeople.

Mr. Cain's remark that the town meeting was cancelled to kill the housing project was followed up by explanations from Mr. Imbimbo and Mr. DePasquale. They stated that they had granted the town meeting under a request concerning low income housing and the articles sponsored by the WHA did not pertain to that.

The selectmen apologized for not contacting the WHA to explain and said that they had expected the WHA to resubmit their questions for the next town meeting a month later.

You also neglected to mention that the selectmen and the townspeople pleaded with the WHA to reconsider going Chapter 774, pointing out that they may be opening a 'Pandora's Box' that opens the town to development of every available piece of land.

The WHA voted to reconsider under the pressure of questions they could not answer such as:

Why build if the Wilmington elderly will not be helped.

Is it worth the risk that the government could force us to accept mentally disturbed people.

Shouldn't the townspeople be allowed to vote on an issue that affects them to this degree.

The WHA voted to reconsider the vote for Chapter 774 only if they meet as a full board before their application of 774 goes through.

Another omission from the article was the selectmen's plea that the WHA meet with them to discuss alternatives and the townspeople offering full support to help find and work toward town acceptance of alternatives that would not hurt the town.

I'm sorry to criticize, Larz, but I felt this needed to be said.

Thank you,
Elaine Tucker

state's 351 cities and towns to help offset property taxes. Robinson said in the last five years surplus funds have ranged from $75 million to $105 million.

How much longer are the people of this state going to have to decide what is fact and what is fiction.

In recent months elected officials have been proposing various tax reform measures. To those who would believe them I would ask "Do you really think that having the wolf guard the chicken coup would work..." They are saying defeat Prop 2 1/2 and we will take care of you. Look at their past record. Do the people of this state actually believe that a leopard can change its spots at will.

We the taxpayers are tired of going to special town meetings to raise and appropriate money for departments because they failed to live within their budgets. We are tired of the attitude that they are dealing with a bottomless well and that they can come back as many times as they care to. We are tired of handing them a blank check and letting them fill in their own amount.

What we now seem to have as a surplus is just the tip of the iceberg. Ask yourselves how much money is being spent just because it is there.

It is time that the people of this state demand that their public officials act in a responsible way. That government act as every head of a household has to act, as every part of management in private industry has to act, and that is within a budget.

We will no longer listen to their rhetoric. We will no longer be dictated to. When we who will vote on Question 2 in November cast our votes we will be telling our elected officials that it is the people of this state who make the rules and it is we who allow public officials to operate within those rules.

Sincerely,
Jerry Quaglia

Four different tax rates next year

Wilmington, under the new method of taxation starting next year will have four different rates, Anthony Krzeminski told the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce last week.

Krzeminski, the principal assessor for Wilmington, spoke at a breakfast meeting at Woodside's Restaurant.

The new law is known as Chapter 797 of the Acts of 1979. It is mandatory, for all communities, this year, next year, or the year following. In Wilmington it will be next year.

Wilmington will have to vote money for a .100 percent reassessment. There was an article in the warrant for the town meeting this year, which asked for $125,000. Part of the reassessment had already been done, which would have saved the town money. The article was voted down 243 to 43, in town meeting.

Next year it will have to be voted, and it will cost the town more, Krzeminski said.

The four different tax rates are to be derived from four different percentages to be placed on the 100 percent valuations, he said. The law is so written that the City Council or the Board of Selectmen can have an input into those percentages. Krzeminski did not regard this as being wholly for the good for the people of the state.

Concievably there can be political influences.

The original classification bill, as it is called, was a constitutional amendment, voted two years ago. It was on this amendment that the Boston politicians spent so much of the taxpayers' money, to be certain that it would be accepted.

The classification bill was rewritten by the Legislative Committee on Taxation last year. It is now the law, Chapter 797 of the Acts of 1979.

Chapter 797 provides a new concept of classification, in that real estate is now broken down into four classes, Residential; Open Space; Commercial and Industrial.

In addition to this there is the Tax talk

Wilmington's principal assessor, Anthony Krzeminski spoke on tax problems last week at a breakfast meeting of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce. At left are State Rep. James Miceli and State Sen. Robert Buell.

The tax levy for the state equalized value would be for a valuation of $376,900,000 and would be $33.50 per thousand.

Under Chapter 797, the four classes of property would then assume the following percentages of tax burden:

Residential - $5,073,200	40 percent
Open Space - $126,830	1 percent
Commercial - $1,775,620	14 percent
Industrial - $5,326,860	42 percent

Personal property (3 percent) would be $380,490, for a total of $12,683,000.

This would bring the residential tax rate to $23 per thousand; the open space tax rate to $2 per thousand; the commercial tax rate to $51 per

Views On Dental Health

By RANDALL SMITH, D.D.S.

SEAL OUT DENTAL DECAY

Dental decay is the most prevalent disease in the world. It occurs most frequently on the chewing surfaces of teeth. Rarely does a person go through childhood without some cavities and fillings in these areas. Now, there is a way to avoid much of this damage and repair.

Plastic film, known as sealant, can be applied by the dentist to these chewing surfaces to seal vulnerable pits and grooves in which decay-causing bacteria can be trapped. The sealant prevents the plaque and acid from attacking the tooth surface. Sealants for tooth surfaces are already past the experimental stage and are in use, especially for the biting surfaces of molars.

The sealant protects teeth as long as it is retained. In studies of several thousand children, the material was retained from a few months to several years. If lost, the sealant can be reapplied.

Adhesive sealant can also be used to repair broken edges of front teeth. They can match tooth color, are economical and easy to handle.

Cong. Shannon released from hospital

Fifth District Congressman James M. Shannon has been released from Lawrence General Hospital, where he was being treated for a ruptured disc in his lower back.

While Shannon's condition has improved somewhat, Shannon's doctor, Joseph Rokus, M.D., has prescribed complete bed rest for several weeks.

The congressman is in severe pain and suffering from a lack of sensation and a lack of function in his back and left leg.

Shannon's doctors say that the ruptured disc, technically called a herniated vertebral disc, puts pressure on, and causes inflammation of the spinal nerve. Complete rest for several weeks is essential to assure full recovery.

Shannon, who recently won the Democratic nomination for reelection, was admitted on September 29 with severe pain and numbness in his back and leg.

Good word for Joe

A 'little mutt' named Butch was tied in the backyard of his Dewey Avenue, Wilmington home one day recently when he was attacked by two larger mauling dogs, running loose, in complete and total defiance of the town's leash law.

It cost Butch's owners, Mrs. Jacqueline Doucette of Dewey Avenue, and Mrs. Jackie Barry of Tewksbury, $65 to get Butch put back together again.

In desperation they made a complaint to Dog Officer Joe Balestrieri who went to the scene, captured and identified the culprits and as a result Butch's owners were reimbursed half of his doctor bills.

Joe returned to the Dewey Avenue residence several times to 'follow up' and try to enforce the leash law. Many times, it seems that nobody has a good word for the dog officer - but Mrs. Jacqueline Doucette has.

This is Bob Buell's idea of an old age home.

High property taxes are a burden to everyone. But they especially hurt the elderly.

While most legislators are talking, State Senator Bob Buell is filing numerous bills to help the elderly of this state with their property taxes.

His legislation calls for an increase in property tax abatements. And for the abolition of the eligibility requirements which force the elderly to disclose their personal income.

Bob Buell knows that if nothing is done to increase property tax abatements many elderly homeowners won't be able to own homes. And where would that leave them?

Re-elect Bob Buell your state senator.

Senator Bob Buell

First ticket sold in Massachusetts Arts Lottery

The Massachusetts Arts Lottery was launched Tuesday, October 14 with the new Arts Lottery tickets going on sale at all sales agent locations throughout the state. With the introduction of this new game, Massachusetts becomes the first state in the nation with a lottery game specifically created to support the arts.

The Arts Lottery is the result of legislation signed into law last year. The game is administered by the Massachusetts State Lottery Commission, which has been operating other successful lottery games since 1972. Unlike other lottery games, however, net revenues from this one will be utilized to support a variety of arts organizations and activities also at the local level. If Proposition 2½ passes this may well be needed to take up the slack in cultural programs cut back.

The purchase of a $5 Arts Lottery ticket makes the player eligible for four consecutive weekly drawings. A top prize of $10,000 will be awarded in each of the first three weeks of each cycle, and a grand prize of $200,000 will be awarded in the fourth week of each cycle. The Arts Lottery offers the best odds of an Massachusetts lottery game for winning a top prize of $50,000 or more.

Net revenues from this will be distributed by the newly created Arts Lottery Council through a network of local Arts Councils throughout the state, who will use the funds to support local theater companies, dance groups, music organizations, and visual artists.

Locally, the Arts Lottery was launched officially when Tina Prentiss, chairperson of the Wilmington Arts Council, purchased the symbolic first ticket from Lucci's Market At the October 9 conference in the mayor's office in Lowell, the state council revealed such statistics as: 80 percent of the population gambles once a week - raffles, bingo, lotteries, etc. - and 36 percent are 'regulars' in buying state lottery tickets. The amount of money for local spending will not depend on the number of tickets sold but the more sold, the more to go around for the 300 towns with arts councils.

A replica of the new ticket, which will have a different picture on it for each cycle, was painted on the sidewalk outside Lowell City Hall by the famous "Sidewalk Sam."

Civil Air Patrol seeks cadets

Any young man or woman, who has completed the sixth grade, or is between the ages of 13 and 17, may become a CAP cadet and participate in the Cadet program.

Through this program, a Cadet is given the opportunity to develop and increase his self discipline, through discussion and study of leadership and military training. To increase his knowledge, skills and attitude for understanding aviation and its impact on society. Face moral issues through discussion and debate, and remain physically fit through a special aerobics program.

Through a combination of study and performance, Cadets work their way through a series of achievements. As Cadets progress they are rewarded with increased ranks, ribbons and certificates. When's the last time you talked with your State Senator?

Our elected representative to the Massachusetts state senate has not been accessible or responsive to the needs of the people. Many state legislators set up office hours in each of the communities they represent on a regular basis. Our state senator has chosen NOT to do this. Many state legislators attend local selectman and city council meetings on a regular basis. Our state senator has chosen NOT to do this. Many state legislators have gone into the communities they represent to meet the people and listen to their individual and collective problems. Our state senator has chosen NOT to do this.

Bill Gustus is serious about looking out for you.

A State Senator must be available and responsive to problems of his or her constituents. As your State Senator, Bill would hold office hours not only at the State House in Boston but in the local communities as well. Arrangements can be made to hold office hours at local town halls or other public buildings on a regular basis in each of the communities. As State Senator, Bill would maintain a close relationship with local officials and attend local meetings on a regular basis. Most importantly Bill would make a truly concerted effort to meet as many of his constituents as is possible during the course of the legislative term (as opposed to only during the election campaign).

Lynne Hastings marries Robert Maxwell

Lynne Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hastings of Chestnut Street, Wilmington, became the bride of Robert Maxwell, son of Dr. Robert E. Maxwell of Manchester Street, Nashua, N.H. on August 23.

Colorful floral bouquets adorned the altar of the First Parish Church of Duxbury, before which the Rev. William Gardner performed the two o'clock ceremony.

Edwin Swanborn enhanced the services with appropriate organ selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a gown of white silk organza appliqued with Venice lace. Her short veil, edged in matching lace, fell from a lace cap and she carried a cascade of white and yellow roses, carnations, and babies breath entwined with English Ivy.

Laurie Hastings served her sister as maid of honor while bridesmaids included Marcia Keefe of Manchester, N.H., Janet Sorlin of Glen Falls, N.Y. and Connie Wohlander of Weymouth, Mass.

The bride's attendants wore long gowns of sea spray green featuring spaghetti strap tops and empire waistlines which extended into full, pleated skirts.

They carried nosegays made of pink, blue, white and yellow roses, miniature carnations, babies breath and daisies.

Gary Hastings, brother of the bride served as best man while ushering duties were in charge of Donald LaTourette, Jr. of Nashua, Paul Grillo of Nashua, and David Paling of Durham, N.H.

Immediately following the ceremony, a garden reception was held at the home of the bride's grandmother in Duxbury where music was provided by disc jockey Rick Bean of WHEB, Portsmouth.

The guest book was circulated by Leigh Hastings, also a sister of the bride. Leigh was attired in a lavender gown and wore a corsage of pink, yellow and white flowers.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. Hastings chose a long gown of pale yellow flowered print quana. She wore a wrist corsage of yellow and white roses, daisies and miniature carnations.

For traveling the new Mrs. Maxwell wore a sundress with a ballerina jacket.

Following a wedding trip to Bermuda, the couple is now living in Lebanon, N.H.

The bride is a graduate of Wilmington High School and of the University of New Hampshire.

Her husband graduated from Bishop Guertin High School in Nashua and the University of New Hampshire and is now an assistant manager for K-Mart Corporation.

Wilmington Pop Warner

Charger C's crush Sudbury

The three Wilmington Charger football teams were on the road Sunday to take on Sudbury in Pop Warner Merrimack Valley Conference action. The first game of the triple-header saw the Charger C team down Sudbury 20-0, while in two hard fought battles, the B's were nipped, 6-0 and the A's fell short, 12-7.

Charger C's 20 Sudbury 0

The C team received an outstanding performance from quarterback Danny Duffy, as he led the Chargers 207 total yards.

The Chargers opened the scoring in the first quarter on a well executed 52 yard, nine play drive, with Bobby Cole scoring on a 10 yard end-around reverse. The point after attempt failed.

Early in the second quarter, the Chargers notched their second score of the game, with a 59 yard drive, highlighted by a 20 yard pass from Duffy to Cole and some timely running by Steve Fuller and Tom Pote. The drive was climaxed by an 11 yard sweep to paydirt by halfback Ray Mercuri. The extra point by Bobby Cole on an end-around reverse ran the score to 13-0.

Moments into the third quarter, Bobby Cole scored his second TD of the game when he swept the right side to paydirt on a well executed reverse, with some fine blocking from Tom Pote and Steve Jackson. The extra point was added with quarterback Duffy going over for the score.

The Chargers offensive line, spearheaded by Rich Donnelly, Robbie Baabant, Jeff Labossiere, Paul Buonopane and Eric Penttinen, allowed the running backs to grind out 142 yards, while their pass protection for quarterback Duffy resulted in four completions to Bobby Cole and Kenny Lyons, good for 65 yards.

The entire defensive unit, led by ends Marty Kuchler and Mike Calandrello, kept the Sudbury offense off track all day, holding them to just three first downs, and forcing two fumble turnovers while racking up 11 first downs enroute to their third victory of the season.

Sudbury 6-Charger B's 0

The Charger B's got hooked-up in a defensive battle, with neither team able to move the ball throughout the first half.

The only scoring threat came late in the second quarter when the Chargers, with some consistent running by backs John McLaughlin and Jonathan Hensley, moved the ball to the Sudbury 10 yard line. However, a costly penalty killed the Charger drive, ending the first half.

Sudbury broke the scoring ice midway through the third quarter on a sustained drive, capped off by a 30 yard dash to paydirt. The extra point attempt failed, and that completed the scoring for the afternoon.

Neither team could mount a scoring drive in the final stanza, as the defensive units prevailed. The Chargers received outstanding performances from Chris Athanasia and Kevin Sutton, playing well both ways, while Hensley and McLaughlin were the main cogs in the Charger attack.

Sudbury 12-Charger A's 7

The Charger A's battled back in the second quarter from a 6-0 deficit, to take a 7-6 halftime lead on a drive that covered 52 yards.

The march was highlighted by a 12 yard pass from quarterback Billy Woods to Joe Biondo, and was capped off by a 22 yard scoring strike from Woods to fullback Mike Ingersoll for the score. Ingersoll added the extra point to give the Chargers the halftime lead.

Wilmington came up with a strong goalline defense in the third quarter to halt a Sudbury drive at the four yard line, but could not muster an drive of their own as the third quarter came to a close.

Sudbury took advantage of a fumble recovery at the Charger 35 yard line late in the final quarter, and the turnover proved costly, as the ensuing drive resulted in the winning score on a four yard off-tackle slant. The point after attempt failed to close out the scoring for the afternoon.

The Charger A and B teams host Billerica, while the C team takes on Swampscott Sunday, October 19 at the West Intermediate School field.

McNaughton paces Wildcats

Sophomore Mary McNaughton and freshman Lisa Desforge led the way, as the Wilmington High School girls cross country team scored a 26-29 win over Chelmsford last week in MVC action.

McNaughton remained unbeaten with her 16:20 time, as the WHS girls scored their first victory ever in varsity competition.

Desforge took second place for the Wildcats at 17:28, followed by senior captain Joan Lombardi (18:22), Patty Cassidy (19:19) and Sue Taylor (19:23).

So you got troubles? Wildcats Joe Morgan (left) and Mike Russo leave the field following Sunday's tough loss to Billerica.

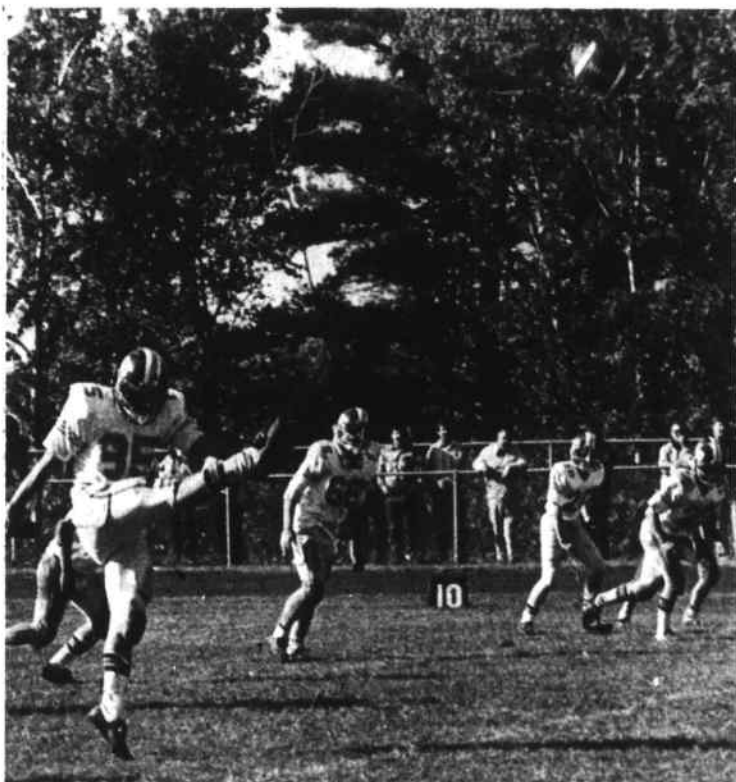

Boudreau red-hot

Shawsheen Tech's George Boudreau has become one of the most prolific scorers in Commonwealth Athletic Conference soccer history. George last week snapped the Rams' soccer scoring record with his 17th goal over eight games. The Shawsheen junior is red-hot with seven games left to play.

Tamed Wildcat

Wilmington's Rusty Ryan (81) is hauled down by a Billerica defender in Sunday's 9-6 Indian win. The loss snapped a two game Wildcat winning streak.

Joe Burbine (85) drives this kickoff at Billerica Sunday.

Indians make Wildcats believers, 9-6

The old line 'seeing is believing' came into play Sunday, when anyone who saw the Billerica High School football defense stifle the Wildcats and quarterback Glen Sargent realizing that these Indians (3-1) are indeed for real.

Billerica erased a 6-0 third quarter Wilmington lead with nine fourth quarter points - including a sack of Sargent in the endzone for an insurance safety - enroute to a 9-6 win and a passing grade in a survival course of a schedule.

Coach Clyde Meyerhoffer's Indians faced an opening four game schedule of Lowell, Tewksbury, Dracut and Wilmington and wound up winning three out of four despite the fact that their offense has produced just four touchdowns in four games.

The defense however, has been superb. Superb enough to hold their opponents to 32 points while scoring just 30 themselves. Billerica now has a three game winning streak heading into this Saturday's game at Haverhill, with defense-triggered wins over Tewksbury (7-6), Dracut (7-6) and Wilmington (9-6) after a tough opening game loss at Lowell (14-7).

Billerica is now in a first place tie with Tewksbury in the heated West Division race in the MVC. The Wildcats saw their modest two game winning streak snapped Sunday at Billerica and slipped into a tie with Lowell (2-2) in the middle of the West Division pack.

The Wildcats never could get their passing attack in gear, while the Indians started fast to dominate the first half.

Billerica marched the ball inside the Wildcats 10 yard line on three occasions in the first half, but the visitors defense stiffened to keep the game scoreless.

A fumble recovery helped the Indians push the ball to the WHS four before a drive stalled, another first quarter Billerica surge to the WHS 11 was eventually shutdown, and yet another march to the Wilmington five also ended with the Wildcats defense hanging tough.

When this third surge came up short, the Indians' John Harlow attempted a 26 yard field goal that missed the mark.

The Cats came out in the second half ready to play their best quarter of football, controlling the ball for all but six plays and eventually scoring on a five yard burst by senior tri-captain Matt Phillips.

Wilmington took the second half kickoff and moved the ball 55 yards on 16 plays, with the big play coming on a 16 yard pass completion from Sargent to Phillips.

This surge met the fate of Billerica's first half marches, as the Indian defense held tough at their own five. A key mistake deep in Billerica territory gave the Wildcats a second crack at the game's first score.

A Billerica fumble gave Wilmington the football at the home club 14 to set up the TD. Sargent went to work immediately, finding tight end Joe Burbine with a nine yard pass before Phillips sliced inside for five yards and six points.

Sophomore Ed Olshaw's conversion attempt sailed wide and the Wildcats had a 6-0 lead with 58 seconds left to play in the third period.

Billerica took the ensuing kickoff and almost tied the game, but a long bomb from quarterback Paul Callery to Reardon was dropped after the Indian receiver had clearly beaten the Wildcats secondary.

Wilmington's defense continued its fine play, holding the Indians and forcing a Harlow punt that rolled dead at the Wilmington 14.

Sargent, coming off three fine games to start the season, made this contest's key mistake when he was intercepted by Billerica's Brian Cassidy at the Wilmington 30.

Cassidy returned the ball all the way to the four, where Callery rolled in for the touchdown that knotted the score at 6-6 in the fourth quarter.

Harlow, part of a solid Billerica kicking game, toed the conversion and the eventual game winner, giving his team a 7-6 edge 13 seconds into the final quarter.

Indian tackle Dave Perrow tacked on some insurance points later in the quarter when he sacked Sargent in his own endzone for a two point safety.

An interception with time running out put the lid on any Wildcat chance for a miracle comeback, as Billerica had its third consecutive impressive MVC victory.

Wildcat tales....The Indians held an 8-3 edge in first downs over the first half, but the winners failed to make a first down over the entire second half.

Billerica did lead the overall statistical parade, topping the Wildcats in yards passing (101-75), yards rushing (103-65) and total yards (204-140), while Wilmington wound up leading in first downs (11-8).

Phillips led all rushers with 90 yards in 18 carries. The Cats had serious problems along the offensive line, with Sargent being sacked six times for 35 yards in losses.

Frank Fay (21), Steve Arpin (68) and quarterback Dennis Vecchi (behind Arpin) lead the blocking for halfback Tom Morgan in Sunday's 17-0 Redmen win.

Redmen survive penalty-marred game

Prescott pounds Haverhill

It wasn't pretty, but when a team is gunning for a conference championship and a berth in an Eastern Mass Super Bowl, it'll take a win anytime the opportunity presents itself.

That was the case Saturday, when the Redmen offense stumbled in a penalty-filled game at Haverhill won by Tewksbury 17-0.

The Redmen, with more of their backfield in motion than the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders, were penalized nine times for 75 yards, while the Hillies, whose lack of discipline set their offense back at key moments, were hit with 61 yards on eight penalties.

The Redmen, who, who led 14-0 at halftime, could have had a 28-0 romp on their hands if it were not for penalties that wiped out a long TD pass to Dan Munroe on the game's first play, and another drive that was cut short when Vecchi ran 30 yards on a busted play to the Haverhill one yard line.

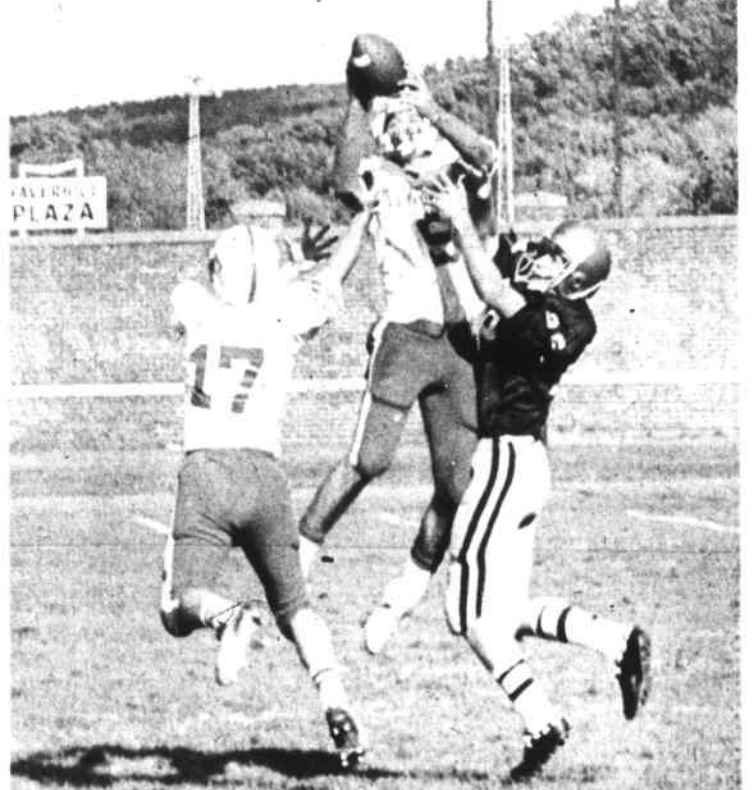

With Tewksbury assistant coach Connie Barry taking up what must be the team's new motto - "don't be denied," burly tight end Mike Prescott and Vecchi certainly wouldn't let the mistake - plagued offense come up short.

Prescott, who after dropping a pass during a second half drive let out a roar that would have sent the Incredible Hulk scurrying, enjoyed a banner game otherwise, catching six passes for 105 yards as Vecchi's main man.

Vecchi connected on nine of 17 passes Sunday for 121 yards and one touchdown. Dennis also got Tewksbury's first score with a one yard plunge in the opening quarter. In the second quarter he found Prescott, who made a nice diving catch in the endzone for the touchdown. When the attack sputtered in the final quarter, Charlie Santos came on to complete a solid day's work (five points and booming jobs on punts and kickoffs) to toe a 23 yard field goal.

Vecchi, an All MVC safety, had a leaping interception, and the opportunistic Tewksbury defense was there when the Hillies coughed up the ball. Both defensive back Dave Collins and end Prescott pounced on Haverhill fumbles. Linebacker Buddy Pelczar and defensive back Josh Hague also had interceptions for the Redmen.

Andover stuns Tewksbury, 2-1

Tewksbury High School's volleyball balloon was burst at least for the moment last week when the second place Redmen were upset by Andover 2-1.

The Golden Warriors won the first set 15-12, before dropping the second game 6-15. The home squad clinched the victory with a 15-11 win in the third game.

The loss dropped Tewksbury's record to 8-2, while Andover improved to 4-5. Tewksbury still is in the hunt for the MVC championship however, with a big game scheduled against Chelmsford, October 21.

Against Andover, tri-captain Diane Deveau led the way with a game-high 17 points. Jerrie Bernier also played well for Tewksbury.

Pee Wee B's dump Wakefield, Medford

Wilmington's Pee Wee B's (2-4-0) came up with a pair of wins last week to highlight local youth hockey action. Wakefield (5-2) and Medford (3-2) fell victims to a solid Wilmington attack, while a burly Acton team muscled its way to a 10-2 romp past the locals.

A summary of last week's action:
Wilmington 5 Wakefield 2
Wakefield scored at 10:53 of the first period before with just 55 seconds left, Todd Boudreau knotted the score assisted by Marty Laquidara.

Wakefield again went ahead at 10:34 of the second frame before the B's went to work with Mark Marranzini (8:33) knotting the game at 2-2 assisted by Joey Costabile.

At 5:09, Marty Laquidara assisted by Boudreau and Andy Aresco gave Wilmington the lead, and with just 24 seconds left to play in the game, Ray Mercuri broke up a play at center ice and went in alone for a goal and the 5-2 final.

Wilmington 3 Medford 2

The B's played their finest game of the season against Medford, as goalie John Gillis turned in an outstanding game. The defense of Eric Ouellette, Sean Marsh, John Mytych, and Brian Gilson was also superb.

After the first period it was 2-1 Medford before Mike Piscatelli scored at 4:58 with help from Tom Pote.

The second frame remained scoreless until the B's rallied twice in the third period. At 9:59 Marty Laquidara knotted the score helped by Eric Ouellette, and Sean Marsh. Joey Costabile then got the go-ahead goal from Mark Marranzini and Mike Piscatelli at 6:54.

Acton 10 Wilmington 2

The B's could only come up with two goals against Acton, with Andy Aresco and Joey Costabile each scoring. Todd Boudreau and Marty Laquidara recorded the assists.

Boys cross country

Redmen score second win, 18-39

Tewksbury High School's boys cross country team scored its second win of the season last week with an 18-39 romp past Dracut in MVC action, while Chelmsford spoiled Wilmington's Homecoming Meet with an 18-43 victory over the Wildcats.

A summary of last week's action:

Tewksbury 18 Dracut 39

Junior Phil Farr led the way for coach Mike Daley's Redmen, finishing just seconds ahead of teammate Nick Romano. The Redmen dominated the meet, copping seven of the first 10 places for the easy win.

Farr came home in 16:29, with Romano next at 17:00. After a Middle runner took third, it was Tewksbury's race all the way with Paul Tremblay (17:25), Tim Niven (17:36) and Tom Springfield (17:44) among the next four finishers. Joe Bernardi was the last Redmen runner to finish in the top 10 with a fine time of 18:45.

The TMHS junior varsity made it a clean sweep for the locals with a 10-26 win, as Kevin Barry, Mike Skidmore and Chris Kennedy took the top three spots.

Chelmsford 18 Wilmington 43
Carl Borgeson and Bob Miele led the Wildcat varsity runners, with the JV standouts Darrin Mather, Steve Stokes, and Carl Beatrice. The Wilmington junior varsity also took a loss, 22-36.

The Tewksbury trio of Mike Hurton, Jim Stronach and Bob Labadini made a clean sweep of the recent Chelmsford Elks Road Race, as the former TMHS track standouts finished 1-2-3 over the 7.7 mile course.

Labadini, who has run at Brandeis University after his graduation from Tewksbury High, was the third place finisher in 40:12.

Arthur lends a hand

Arthur Enos of Wilmington, proprietor of Enos Ambulance Service, volunteered his services in following more than 75 participants in a five-mile road race sponsored by Employees Group of the New England Rehabilitation Hospital, Woburn, to benefit the hospital's wheelchair sports program. Runners included a 79 year old grandmother and 11 former heart patients who had been entered by the Hospital Cardiac Club.

Redmen squads lash Lawrence

The Tewksbury Pop Warner A and B traveling teams added another win to their 1980 slate, as the A team overpowered Lawrence 30-0 and the B squad remained undefeated with a 34-12 triumph at Hazel Field this past Sunday.

A team romps, 30-0
In the A game, Tewksbury held on to a share of first place with Dracut as they proved to be too strong, dropping the Lancers 30-0. Tewksbury's first TD was set up on a 40 yard jaunt by John Naughton to the Lawrence three yard line. From here Joe Indelicato got the call and plunged in for the score. The Lancers blocked the PAT try.

On the ensuing kickoff, Steve Murphy recovered a fumble at the Lawrence two, and Redmen quarterback Dennis Boudreau took it in on a quarterback sneak for the second tally of the day. Again the PAT was blocked, and Tewksbury led 12-0.

Late in the second period, Tewksbury notched its third TD, as Steve Murphy picked off a Lawrence aerial and raced 25 yards to paydirt. The Redmen were stymied again on their PAT try.

The Redmen Blue offense took over the controls in the second frame, and Bobby Johnston was quick to add another six points as he banged in from 10 yards out.

On the kickoff, Brian Haywood boomed the ball deep into Lawrence territory where Steve Norton recovered a fumble at the Lancer 20. Haywood then teamed up with Murphy for the final score of the game on a 15 yard pass-run play.

The Tewksbury defense was anchored by Murphy, Joe Leal and linebacker Jimmy Whalen.

B team cruises, 34-12
The Tewksbury B team rolled up another win, as Joe Vecchi and Ken Coviello set the stage for the first TD, banging the ball to the Lawrence 10 yard line. Buddy MacAllister then scored on a blast off-tackle and Coviello added the PAT on a run up the middle for the 7-0 lead.

The Redmen recovered a fumble on Lawrence's first play from scrimmage and were quick to capitalize. Scott Weissensee and Buddy MacAllister ripped off good gains down to the Lancer 16, where quarterback Bobby Aylward hit Coviello with a strike for the score. The PAT was blocked. On the next set of downs, defensive end Greg Kobelski sacked the Lawrence quarterback in in the endzone for a safety and a 15-0 lead.

The second quarter saw the Redmen go into high gear, as first Vecchi and then MacAllister hammered out long gainers to the Lancer nine. Vecchi then weaved his way to the goal line for a 21-0 lead.

The Redmen got a scare on the kickoff when Lancer halfback Bob Paleno returned the boot 60 yards for Lawrence's first score. Three minutes into the third period, Paleno strutted his stuff again and raced 50 yards for the Lancers' second tally and a 21-12 score. The Redmen horses then went into action, as Joe Vecchi banged in for a six pointer and Coviello added the point after.

On Tewksbury's next set of downs, Vecchi went to work again. With the ball at the Lawrence 35, Joey ripped off tackle and outran the defenders for the final Redmen score and a 34-12 win.

Defensive standouts for the Redmen were Scott Bolton, Tom Niles, Jim and Joe Evangelista, Bobby Byers, Bobby Briggs and Judd Smith. Both Tewksbury teams travel to Chelmsford Sunday for two key games in the MVC race.

Cherokee top Navajo; Apache stay close

The Cherokee broke into the win column as they knocked off the Navajo 12-0 in the first game this past Saturday, and the Apache stayed in the race with a 6-0 squeaker over the Pawnee squad. Sunday, the league-leading Mohawks added another win to their ledger as they dropped the Sioux, 14-0.

Apache halfback Kevin O'Brien's burst of speed proved to be the winning margin, as he notched six points to lead the Apache over the Pawnee and set-up the season showdown this Saturday between the Mohawks and Apache. Also contributing to the Apache attack were Mike Goodine, Brian Aylward and John Miller.

The Blue defense was manned by Kevin Breuer, Scott Niles, Jeff Rossi and Joe Rossiello. Pawnee standouts were Sean Gaynor, Jim Anzavino, Brian Higgins and Steve Whelton.

The Mohawks, now 6-0, overcame a penalty-filled first half to defeat the Sioux, 14-0. The Mohawks defense was led by Scott DeVivo and Gary Rideout, who hit the quarterback and caused a bad pass which was intercepted by Ronnie Anderson and run back 75 yards for a TD. Rideout ran for the PAT.

The first TD was scored by John DeVivo, who also scored the PAT. Other standouts for the Gold were Rick DeBay, John O'Keefe and Jim Simas. The tough Sioux defense was led by Manny Gonsalves and Matt Sheehan, with Jimmy Sullivan, Brian Hanrahan and Hugh Fitzpatrick taking the banner with the B squad. Due to the C team All-Stars playing the Chelmsford traveling C team at 10 a.m. Sunday at Livingston Street, all In-Town League games will be played Saturday this week.

In the first contest Saturday, the Sioux play the Navajo. The second game will see the Mohawks and Apache squaring off in the key game of the season as the Apache try to avenge a 6-0 opening game loss to the Mohawks. The third game will see the Pawnee and Cherokee battling for the third place spot.
